Dates: March 15, March 30 and April 13, 2011

This lab is designed in three, two-hour sessions with time between to allow you to enhance your training design by making additions and revisions you identify through lab sessions. Join other trainers online and via phone to both receive feedback on your own training design and give feedback to other trainers on their design. Additionally, you will have an individual coaching session between labs. You will receive training credit. Contact Debra Sparrow to register at dsparrow@ihs-trainet.com, as registration is limited.
