

2008 Annual Report

To be responsive to an endangered environment and increasingly difficult economy, the OCWTP's 2008 Annual Report The Year in Numbers is now available electronically. Click here for the OCWTP 2008 Annual Report.

In this report you will get information concerning statewide collaborative efforts, the Child Welfare University Partnership Program (UPP), new and revised training curricula and resources, e-learning initiatives, numbers of training days and attendees at OCWTP trainings, special 2008 conferences and symposia, and a 2008 financial summary.

We look forward to our continued collaboration with you as we all work to help prepare child welfare professionals to conduct this difficult, but critical work. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact Sally Fitch at the Institute for Human Services (IHS).

Common Ground

The OCWTP is also pleased to announce our first online edition of Common Ground, the OCWTP's trainer newsletter. This edition highlights content from the recent 2009 Trainer Conference and includes articles on understanding children's responses to trauma, vicarious trauma and strategies for self-care, 2009 trainer awards, and managing trauma in the learning environment.
